The sailing date was postponed to the 16th, and again to the 24th, and finally he departed on July 28. The fact that he get away then was due entirely to fortunate circumstances, he said. A strike was in progress among the men who open the dock gates, and but for the earnest plea of hundreds of Canadian officers and soldiers scheduled to return to Canada, the strikers would not have permitted the vessels to sail. However, two vessels were given permission to leave, and one of them was the Adriatic, on which Mr. Prkins had passage.

"Travel in England is very heavy," Mr. Perkins stated, "and hotel accommodations are extremely hard to get. Unless one knows the ropes he may be forced to walk the streets of London or Liverpool all night."

The people of Scotland afforded Mr. Perkins much amusement in their efforts along financial lines. It is description of the efforts to float an issue of Victory bonds reflects the national attitude along that lines.

"When a Scotch business man is selected upon for committee work to raise funds he does not go out with a committee and call on utter strangers, as do the Americans. He confines his activities to his intimate acquaintances He raises the money all right, but the masses are not reached. As a special inducement to promote the purchase of Victory bonds, those persons who invested £100 were given a chance to wink £50,000 in bonds—a sort of lottery proposition. The smaller investors were given chances at smaller prizes, but the great mass of small investors wouldn't has because they were not given a chance to have a fag day for philanthropic purposes, similar to those of America, they do not show the initiative that the American woman shows, I was 'tagged' several times while I was there, and in nearly every instance i bad to help the woman out who approached me. W. E. Jones of Okiahoma City, Okia., father of Maihue B. Jones, the young man who was shot and killed Aug. 18 near Third, street and Union avenue fellowing a dispute in a nearby restaurant, was in the city Tuesday making an investigation of the tragedy. It was alleged that while under the influence of drugs or liquor, Jones attacked William B. Schultz and a young woman in Solvultz stort Jones in defense of himself and the young woman he was with. Schultz was indicted Tuesday by the grand jury, charged with first degree murder.

Mr. Jones said that his son had never been addicted to the use of liquor or degree murder.

Mr. Jones said that his son had never been addicted to the use of liquor or drugs, nor had never been in serious irouble of any kind before. Young Jones was discharged from the army April 25, having served with Company D. 187th infantry. 42d division, in the Lorralne sector from Feb. 21 to June 18, 1918; in the Champagne-Marne defensive from July 3 to July 18, 1918; in the Champagne-Marne defensive from July 3 to July 18, 1918; in the Champagne-Marne defensive from September to November. 1918, He was gassed July 16, 1918. His discharge mapers stated that his character was excellent and that his physical condition was good at the time of his discharge. His father said the young man was but 15 years old when hemisted in the Fourth Alabama national guard in May, 1918, while the regiment was guarding the Memphis bridge, leaving school to enter the army. Previously he had attended school at Amory, Miss. The boy gave his age as 18 at the time of enlistment, his father said, in order to get into the service.

TEXANS RETURN HOME UNDER POLICE GUARD

Charged with stealing an automobile belonging to A. P. Mitchell, of Port Worth, Tex., driving it through the country to Memphis and disposing of the car here, J. N. Wilson, John Lloyd, Noel Martin and C. R. Chivers, of Port Worth, will be taken back to that city Wednesday. Malcolm Davis, a police official of the Western city, arrived in Memphis Wednesday morning to take charge of the boys who have been held in the city jail since Aug. 24.

It is claimed by the police that after making the trip from Texas in a new car, it was exchanged in a deal for another car in Memphis. They drove to Jackson, Tena., in the new car and were car, it was exchanged in a deal for another car in Memphis. They drove to Jackson. Tenn., in the new car and were arrested there by Detectives Bell and Griffin, of the Memphis police department, as suspects. The detectives then rayeled the story of the missing Texas ear.

with a charge of is cents for each additional 100 pounds.

This arrangement is very reasonable, Mr. Metcalf believes, and it was made solely for the accommodation of persons who have placed orders with the government. He emphasized the fact that anyone having goods ordered can procure his own drayman or his own car to haul the goods from the warehouse at Main street and Auction avenue. The announcement further states that each person who has placed an order will be notified by letter as soon as the goods are received and he may then either make arrangements with the Lewis Transfer company or any other arrangement be cares to in order to get the goods to his home.

An inventory of orders already placed has been made and the announcement is made that the remainder of the Memphis allotment to date with prices as follows:
